A Republican Machine

The Republican machine is taking advantage of the Franklin privileges by sending out a lot of campaign stuff that ought to be paid out of the Republican campaign fund.

This country is flooded with an extract of a speech said to have been made in March; by Henry T. Bannon in congress. It is sent out marked "Part of Congressional Record; Free"; with Representative Louden's name on the corner. The cards bear no postmarks; but were mailed in the Dothan postoffice. Don't know whether it has a right to be mailed this way or not; but if it is admitted that way; it is an advantage the republican party has.

The text of this article is marked:

"Under the Democratic system the wages were paid to the Foreigner; Under the Republican System; to the American." Then goes on an article on wool. Houston County has never broken a record or made one on raising wool. Few people have sheep. Many grown people in this section never saw a dozen sheep in one bunch.

It is merely an excuse to get Republican campaign matter scattered among the voters in Houston county. By doing this more spokes are put in the republican wheel.

We dont need any more spokes in the wheel. As we have said before, the Republican party in Houston county is just the right size right now, to make a pretty running piece of machinery. The more spokes in the wheel, the more jobs the people will expect. Who will get them? Those leaders of the party only.

It is well enough to have an active Republican organization, doing just work enough to keep things fanned up to attract attention when the man comes around with jobs on a wattle.

The party is getting so active in this section though till a general impression has gone out that a man cannot hold his job as a mail carrier as a railway clerk, unless he holds his tongue about politics; or indeed affiliates with the Republican party.

There are some in this county who have been reared on Democratic doctrines, and Democratic principles, who are weak-kneed Democrats, in times of peace; and weak kneed Republicans when the jobs are being passed.

It is alright for a man or woman too, as to that matter; to belong to the Republican party; but they should come out in the open. We bama is Democratic, and always will can never do much in any kind of a be.

It is good enough to have a nice decent, Republican to hold the good post-office jobs, the good jobs coming out of the federal court; from the revenue departments, but those places are well filled, by men we all like. They are home men, in most cases; and we think none the less of them. We hate to see a surplus. Good vote brown away. What would thirty percent of the Republican vote amount to in Houston County, presuming that such a big crowd would vote the Taft ticket? Our desire is to see a more Republican vote cast in Houston county than is absolutely necessary to maintain the organization, making those boys eligible for their jobs next time, providing the Republican party is successful in November, which is not at all assured.

The point is this: when a man affiliates with the Republican party, he shouldn't be in line for political favors from the hands of the Democratic party. To the victor belongs the spoils, and we had no objection whatever, when every Democrat was kicked out of any office that might be as well filled by a Republican. But the man who expects favors from both parties, is a mere scaven- er following after the camps for rums that might fall from either table.

The man who announces, boldly, that his politics is Republican is a brave man, and one whose rights and privileges are to be respected. The man who stands for Democracy and its principles is to be respected, and should be kicked out of any Republican gathering.

Should Bryan be elected this time and many wise men believe his chances are growing stronger everyday, then you will see more young bloods in this section, who have been running with the bare and bounds, come rippling back to the fold, with the innocent air: than has ever been assembled in one drove before. They will forget about talking for Taft, working for Taft, handing out Taft literature on the quiet.

All we want is to get each voter loaded. If he belongs on our side, he ought to know it. If on the other side, the sooner we know it the better.

NOTICE

STATE OF ALABAMA
COUNTY OF HUNTSVILLE

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held in the various precincts of Houston County, Alabama on Tuesday, the third day of November, 1908, for the election of electors for President of the United States, Vice-President of the United States, a Representative of Congress from the third Congressional District of Alabama, two Associate Justices for the Supreme Court of the State of Alabama, a Game and Fish Commissioner for the State of Alabama, a President of the Rail Road Commission of the State of Alabama, a Chancellor for the Southeastern Chancery Division of Alabama, and a Coroners Tax-assessor, a Tax-Collector, a Superintendent of Education, a County Treasurer, four County Commissioners, two Justices of the Peace and one Constable from each precinct of said County of Houston, Alabama.

At said election the following Constitutional amendments shall be voted on:

An amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama for the purpose of providing for the formation and establishing of new counties out of portions of one or more counties as may be desired.

An amendment to Section 93, Article 4 of the Constitution so as to provide that the State may, under appropriate laws, cause the net proceeds from the State convict fund to be applied to the construction, repair and maintenance of public roads of the State, and allow the Legislature to make additional appropriations for that purpose.

And also an amendment to Section 48 and 49 of Article 4 of the Constitution so as to provide for biennial sessions of the Legislature.

This the 2nd day of Oct. 1908

Small Blaze.

A three room empty house, on south St. Andrews street was burned down this morning about 1 o'clock. The house was owned by Mr. Wm. Merritt.

The fire department answered the alarm but as the house was out of reach of water, they could render no service. We could not learn whether or not there was any insurance of the property.

Honest Paint and Honest Measure

United States
Standard
Measure

In these days of counterfeits, adulterations and substitutions it can't be too careful in buying such a commodity as paint. The ingredients of liquid paint and the processes of making it are a "closed book" to the average man, and the temptation to make big profits on most inferior grades has proven too strong for some manufacturers.

Would you know at sight whether the can contained the full U. S. Standard measure?

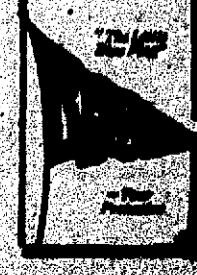

Buy a gallon can of Lowe Brothers "High Standard" Liquid Paint and it contains one full gallon. If a pint can, it has one full pint — government measure. This is the Lowe way, and there are no exceptions to it.

Just as dependable as "High Standard" Liquid Paint.

Liquid Paint are Lowe Brothers Varnishes and Enamels, for exterior or interior finish. Quick, hard Drying Floor Paint, a Varnish paint of great durability.

They are the best values to be had. Let us make suggestions for your color combinations. Ask for Booklets and Color Cards. See sample panels.

Today we have fourteen union tailors, busy as bees making them, and our force will have to be increased to supply the demand.

Cotton sold in this market yesterday for 8 7/8 cents per pound, just 2 3/4 cents less than the price a year ago.

A nineteen year old Pennsylvania lad admits that he has never heard of heaven during all his born days. Makes us wonder what part he had in that state's capital building, of a few years ago.

How to live long is a subject most of us are interested in, but few give it much attention. We don't seem to know that we could live one hundred, one hundred and fifty, maybe two hundred years, just according to whose mail we took, or which breakfast food we sprinkled down and ate.

A young man on the Omaha Bee found something in a plat from that looked like it needed picking, and he jumped in and gave it a good rounding up, holding it up as being the cheapest, and abdoldest piece of platform building he had ever seen. He bored many holes into it. When the papers got out all over the country, his boss, or some one else, told the fellow that he had knocked the steam all out of the republican party's choicest pieces of workmanship, for that platform he tore up was their own property.

Wired Him In.

Son-in-law Nick got too enthusiastic and demanded, from the attorney, that Taft be elected this time, then another time, making a total of eight grinding years of White House keeping, then he thought it proper for Mr. Taft to go on away, and let the present incumbent take another shot at it, thus keeping a good thing right close home. He never said as much, but he might have intimated, that by that time, he himself would be qualified to inherit his own. Mr. Roosevelt has always a fresh supply of nerve, that has been the wonder and fear of the people, so he telegraphed Nick off the stump, so to speak, and he will now rub his nose, and work in one of the card index offices, till he gets more graceful with his tongue.

Wiring.

A middle aged farmer accosted a young faced youth in London the other day.

"Young man," he said, plucking the youth, "I want to go to Hyde Park."

The youth seemed lost in consideration for a moment.

"Well, he said finally, "you may go just this once, but I don't want you to see me again." — Pick-up.

Still Running.

There, good four, owned a picture book in which a fierce looking dog was running after a small boy. He looked at it a long time, then, suddenly, taking the book, he laid it down. A few days later he laid it down again, turned to the pic-

SPURIOUS COIN A LURE.

Psychology of Counterfeiting a Puzzle to the Authorities.

"Like the fly which lights on paper carefully smeared with molasses for his benefit, the man who lets his thoughts dwell upon 'queer' money is caught hard and fast unless he gets the idea out of his head as soon as it enters," said a secret service official. "It is funny, though, how the game attracts a man who is otherwise honest. The man who is attracted at first by the prospect of making money in this way, argues that he is doing no wrong.

"He simply says to himself that he will make a few thousand dollars of spurious money and then shove it out in a safe way. He argues with himself that the money will be accepted by every one and that it really is the same as the money stamped as legal tender by the government and only the government will lose.

"He begins to read about counterfeiting, and the more he reads the easier the thing seems. Ten to one he has a taste for mechanics, and any man with a simple knowledge of metals, if he has the proper dies, can turn out a pretty fair representation of a dollar or other silver coin.

"Most of the old time counterfeiters have gone out of business or are serving terms in penitentiaries, and many of the spurious coins made at the present time are manufactured by men who are respected in the communities in which they live.

"Counterfeiting bank notes is more difficult than making spurious coins, but after a man has been successful with silver pieces he takes up the other end, with study and perseverance, can turn out a few bills. However, these makers of 'bad' money never last long. They are run to earth sooner or later. Then comes their realization of the crime they have been involved in. The government is a relentless enemy, and the punishment for making spurious money is severe, but the wrongdoers never realize this until they are fairly caught.

"Every man believes in his own heart that he is sharper and shrewder than his neighbor. When he reads stories of counterfeiters who flourished years ago he sees what blunders they made and how they came to be caught.

"I can do better than that fellow did, and those dumb detectives could never have caught me in the trap they laid for him," is the way the amateur counterfeiter muses. He figures it all out to his own satisfaction, but he fails to give the men in Uncle Sam's service credit for any brains or originality of thought. He thinks that they work the same way on every case and that all he has to do is to observe the pitfalls that the other men fell into and be careful not to walk into them himself.

"This point settled, the deluded victim of the get-rich-quick craze has only a few more steps to take. The first thing that he does generally is to manufacture some homemade dies of plaster of paris. They are crude molds of silver pieces, and so our deluded friend experiments a little by pouring pure lead into these casts, and, to his surprise and delight, he turns out a few pieces of metal which bear a resemblance to money." — Chicago Record-Herald.

Got the First Blow.

An Irish horse owner whose horse had been prescribed for by a veterinary surgeon ran into the latter's office and, with tears in his eyes and his face the "pictur of bad luck," cried:

"Oh, Dr. Moriarity, I'm poorly! The powder's kilt me entoile!"

"The powder!" cried Dr. Moriarity. "Why, I didn't tell you to take the powder. I told you to place it in a paper tube and put one end of it in the horse's mouth and blow hard."

"Yes, son," said Pat. "I put the powder in the chube, and I put the end of it in the horse's mouth, with the other end in my own; but, begorra, he blew first!"

To Whom It May Concern:—

Having learned that Mr. Meade has assumed control of the moving picture show in Dothan, Ala. I certify with pleasure that if Mr. Meade conducts the entertainments in Dothan like he has in Bainbridge the public will find no place for criticism. So far as my personal knowledge goes, together with what I have heard others say the moving picture entertainments given by Mr. Meade in Bainbridge have been of such a clean, high class order that they have had the support of the very best citizens of the place.

MONOPOLIES

Are the outgrowths of the old trusts which were held in such contempt by our English forefathers. A Monopoly is like a faucet at the end of a pipe where water flows. Just as the faucet limits the supply of water, so does the monopoly contract or expand the product it controls. We are opposed to monopoly. The American Snuff Co., The Continental Tobacco Co., The Standard Oil Co., with other like corporations, are pernicious and malignant business growths on American civilization. The methods by which they have secured their supremacy, if fully disclosed before our business eyes, would ask at once for a dissolution, or to make them subject to banishment from this republic. Look through our paper, we invite you to come to us. Our idea is that merit will find its greatest good.

Looks For Better Business.

The Illinois Central Railroad has placed orders for a million dollars worth of freight cars to be delivered after Dec. 1st.

"This," said Mr. Harahan, "shows what we think of the prospects for a revival of business." Mr. Harahan added that lumber, coal and cotton shipments on his road are now greater than at the corresponding period last year and that manufactured articles are the only class of shipments still considerably under normal.

The Forests.

The U. S. Forests department has sent J. H. Foster to our state to study and make surveys of our forests for the purpose of its future preservation. Mr. Foster will remain in the state for several months, making maps, surveys and etc. So that we may move intelligently and systematically preserve enough of our abundant forests to guarantee us, in future, against disasterous draughts and floods, which are sure to follow the destruction of our forests.

The plan is in operation in several states of the Union, and the Government is lending a hand to help the cause.

We have plenty timbered lands now, but unless we make a move before our timber is gone, we will find our mistake after it is too late to remedy it.

The Montgomery Journal says: Mr. Foster has an idea by which he hopes to be able to establish forest reserves in Alabama. This method has worked exceptionally well in a number of states, he says, and would be of benefit to this state. Pennsylvania has over 1,000,000 acres under such surveillance, and the results according are said to be marked.

Especial attention will be paid by the forester to the culture of Alabama timber and to the preservation of trees. He expects to begin work on the surveying at once, and expects to be in the state several months. He is scheduled for a speech at the state fair in this city during October week of enjoyment."

If a man comes here seeking value in clothes--we can unlock his pocket-book!
If he comes seeking nobby patterns--we can suit him!
If he demands style--we can satisfy him!
If he requires the ultra--we can deliver the goods!

But the great essential is fit, which includes not only the size of breast, waist and length of inseam, but the proportioning of sleeve to the set of collar, the balancing of the shoulder, etc. Our clothing excels here as in other respects.

Each line reveals the master designer's intimate acquaintance with the physique of the man in all its varying proportions; the "hang" of our suits conserves the general appearance, and makes young men look at their best.

Notice of application to sell land
The State of Alabama
County of Houston Probate Court
Estate of Lilla N. Alford, deceased

This day came T. W. Butler as administrator of the estate of the said decedent, and filed his application, in due form, and under oath, praying an order for the sale of certain lands described therein, and be brought to the said estate, for the purpose of paying the debts of the said estate and for division among the heirs thereof. It is ordered that Friday the 16th day of October 1898 be appointed the day for hearing said application, at which time all parties in interest can appear and contest the same, if they think proper.

Witness my hand this the 16 day of Sept. 1898.

Geo. Leslie,
Probate Judge

Fall Suits for Men and Boys

You may look all over the country and never get a prettier fit, or a more lasting suit than I am offering you in the Hamburger Clothes. The price is right; it is reasonable, when you take into consideration the workmanship in every garment that goes out of my store.

The suits for BOYS, are particular attractive and snappy. Bring him down and let him be fitted out in one. He'll look better, and you will feel better.
